

About Documentation

Documentation is very important to the evaluation of proposals and should provide an accurate view of the range and quality of the collaborating artists' work. Work samples demonstrating the artists' abilities to collaborate are particularly helpful. Samples should reflect work completed within the last five years. They should not be "pitch" pieces for the proposal under review but should illustrate the artist's previous work.

Ten Minutes or Less

While your project may involve multiple collaborating artists and you will want to represent that range, you also will need to be selective. If you submit several samples from the list of possibilities, the total time required for review of those samples should be ten minutes or less.

Types of Documentation Accepted

- Web-based audio or video or audio CD, CD-R, or DVD of work completed within the last five years.

For each online link, please indicate the portion of the linked material (if it is longer than 10 minutes) that you want the panel to hear or view. If you are submitting physical documentation, label those objects with the name of the applicant organization and artist and – if appropriate -- the track number you would like the panel to hear or view.

DVD submissions should include a simple, direct menu so the panel can navigate quickly to the work sample. Please provide three copies of any physical documentation.

Web-based audio and video should be in common formats (MP3, QuickTime, etc.) on reliable media servers (Sound Cloud, YouTube, Vimeo, etc.).

- Up to 20 digital format still images of work produced within the last five years.

Digital images should be in JPEG format at a resolution no lower than 72 DPI and no higher than 300 DPI. Please give each JPEG a filename that includes the artist's name and number from 1-20 in the order they are to be presented. A set of images may be assembled in a slide deck compatible with Microsoft PowerPoint. Images may be submitted on CD-R/DVD or accessed via the web with the URL you provide. If you submit a CD-R/DVD, please provide three copies.

Websites. If your work sample is a website, please include specific page URLs for panelist review, rather than referring to an entire website.

- Up to 15 pages of a written manuscript in hard copy or PDF format. The format of prose manuscripts should be double-spaced, but poetry may be single-spaced.

Please Note

If you wish to submit or transmit your documentation in a form other than the choices listed, please contact the Creative Work Fund at (415) 402-2793 as soon as possible to see if the proposed form can be accommodated.
